Gramm-Rudman: Student Aid Cuts

by Rich Fieglman
FLASHLIGHT Staff Writer

If President Reagan has his way, and the Gramm-Rudman bill stands as is, the government will tighten up on college aid by $1.3 billion. Mainly this will be done by tightening eligibility.

According to Tioga County Commissioner Richard Bartlett, Gramm-Rudman is a bill, already passed in congress, which supposedly will reduce government spending until the budget is balanced. These cuts will be made at 4.5% per annum across the board.

Bartlett went on to say that he is "not apprehensive about budget cutting, you can work around that," but, "what's disturbing is the elimination of programs." One item that he cited was revenue sharing, which is sending tax dollars back home to be spent as the county sees fit. Social Service Programs such as mental health, welfare, Guideline, and the food pantry will also be affected in Tioga County, which greatly needs such assistance. The completion of Route 15 could also be curtailed by the federal budget cuts.

Public services, such as the new bus line between Mansfield and Wellsboro will also feel the pinch. "Anything in public service which has a federal dollar behind it, will be impacted or eliminated by the proposed budget - Gramm-Rudman."

stated Bartlett. Governor Thornburgh plans on subsidizing some social service programs, but student aid will definitely suffer.

Commissioner Bartlett, a republican, went on to say that he, "disagrees with priority spending, sending millions overseas to Haiti or Nicaragua, when our own people suffer."

In Tioga County, Bartlett sees no panic because Congress still must deal with the budget proposal. People will be on their toes watching how this progresses. He said finally, "We have to let Washington, Harrisburg, and Wellsboro know how we feel money should be spent."

Work Abroad Program Offered

"My summer work in London was the most satisfying experience of my life. Immersed as part of the society, among the work force, facing the same problems of inflation and bureaucracy, one cannot help but come to understand how a culture, a people can differ—in attitudes, outlooks, and assumptions."

This was the assessment of one student who participated in the Work Abroad Program sponsored by the Council on International Educational Exchange, the largest student travel organization in the United States.

Now in its sixteenth year, the Work Abroad Program is the only one of its kind available in the US. It cuts through the red tape to help thousands of students obtain permission for temporary work in Britain, Ireland, France, Germany, New Zealand, and Costa Rica. With the Assistance of the Council's cooperating student organizations in each country and helpful pre-departure material, participants discover that finding a job abroad is no more difficult than at home.

Apart from a modest program fee of $72 ($150 for work in Costa Rica), the only significant "...work abroad is a tremendous learning experience; one is enriched with relationships with fellow workers and the adventure of supporting oneself," reported another student who worked in a Paris boutique. Although jobs found are primarily unskilled in restaurants, stores, and hotels salaries generally more than cover the cost of room and board. Often participants save enough money out of their earnings to treat themselves to a vacation once they stop working.

Employment found by participants in the past includes work as chambermaids or porters in London's West End, as a farm helper on a sheep station in New Zealand, and as a banking trainee in a prominent Parisian financial institution.

The program is open to degree-seeking students attending an accredited US college or university. Students must be 18 years of age or older and language proficiency is required to the appropriate countries. For more information and application forms, write or phone:

$2,833 for Turning on the Lights

Mansfield University had received a rebate totalling $2,833 from the Pennsylvania Electric Company for its continuing efforts toward energy management.

Thomas Phinney, Mansfield district customer services manager, said Penelec and the MU maintenance staff have worked together throughout the year to take advantage of the Penelec-sponsored Lamp Replacement Program.

In the program, Phinney says, "Penelec agrees to pay its commercial and industrial customers 50 cents for every fluorescent tube and four dollars for every ballast that is replaced with a new reduced wattage high-efficiency unit. When high pressure sodium vapor lights are used to replace a less efficient type, the customer is entitled to at 10 cents per watt rebate for every watt of electrical energy reduced."

According to Dave Umbel, MU maintenance supervisor, MU maintenance staff members have converted exterior lighting to new high pressure sodium vapor lamps. In the process, Umbel said MU has doubled its output while lowering demand 5,000 watts. He said they have also replaced fluorescent lamps and ballasts with new energy efficient units resulting in an 29,000 watt reduction. This amounts to an annual savings of approximately $7,000.

Umbel said the $2,833 rebate will be used to continue implementing energy saving measures.

David Bradley Reading Success

David Bradley, whose novel The Chaneyville Incident, won the PEN/Faulkner Award for Fiction in 1982, presented a reading at 8 PM on Wednesday, February 26, in the North Dining Room of Manser Hall on campus. The reading was free and open to the public.

Bradley teaches in the Creative Writing Program at Temple University. He did his undergraduate work at the University of Pennsylvania and graduate work at King's College London. In 1982 he was awarded the Hazelitt Award for Excellence in the Arts from the state of Pennsylvania.

He has been writer-in-residence at Yale University, Haverford College, Sarah Lawrence College, the Folger Library and other colleges. He is a member of the Fellowship Panel of the National Endowment for the Arts.

When The Chaneyville Incident was published, Vance Bourjaily writing in The New York Times Book Review began his account of the novel's achievements by stating that David Bradley "can synchronize five different kinds of rhetoric, control a complicated plot, manage a good-sized cast of characters, convey a lot of information, handle an intricate time scheme, pull off a couple of final tricks that dramatize provocative ideas, and generally keep things going for 200,000 words. That's about two and a half books for most of us."

Patricia Holt, in Publishers Weekly, noted that the novel's "historical passages are so readable they go down like cream." And Art Siedenbaum called The Chaneyville Incident "the most significant work by a black author since James Baldwin."

Bradley has remarked that his interest in novels, like that of the Victorians, is in the basics of plot and character. His first novel, South Street, which he wrote while he was still an undergraduate, will be re-issued this March by Charles Scribner's Sons as part of their new Signature Series.

The reading was made possible through grants from the Human Relations Committee and the Pennsylvania Council on the Arts and has been organized by the Mu Xi literary society of Mansfield University in observance of Black History month.

What is Memorial Hall

Two surveys, both of which dealt in part with Memorial Hall Union, were conducted in the fall '85 semester. The results indicated that many students were unaware of the services available to them through the Student Activities Office. For example, a large percentage of those polled did not realize that Student Activities had cross country skis for rent. Overall there appeared to be a general lack of knowledge concerning services, organizations and other recreational opportunities.

The Student Activities Office would like to correct this situation with what we hope is a fairly comprehensive list of recreational and organizational activities associated with Memorial Hall.

Recreation

As stated above, the Student Activities Office has cross country skis for rent. There are also canoes, flying saucers, tents and backpacks available. For entertainment within the Union there are billiards, table tennis, amusement machines and gaming tables. There is also a television lounge and snack bar.

Organizations

Student organizations that have offices in Memorial Hall are: The Flashlight (Rm 217), the Student Government Association, SGA, (Rm 214), the Black Student Union, BSU, (Rm 224), the Mansfield Activities Council, MAC, (Rm 205), and the non-traditional student organization (Rm 215).

Facilities

Room 211 is a quiet study and game room. The Cabaret (reservations required) is a small theatre with special lighting available for coffee houses, guest speakers, dances, movies, etc. The lower lounge, including a vending machine snack bar and lockers for commuters, may be reserved for workshops and meetings. The conference room (by reservation only) is available to campus organizations and to academic/administrative departments.

Services

The Student Activities Office provides programming assistance in the form of what, when, where, and how a program would most likely be accepted. Occasionally there is also financial assistance available. Information on how to organize various game tournaments, i.e. bracket setting, etc., may be found in the Student Activities Office. Materials concerning leadership skills, such as video/audio cassettes/books, are available as is information on off campus workshops. An activities calendar is updated weekly and circulated every two weeks. The Student Activities Office also has sound and lighting equipment which can be rented at a nominal fee by all organizations and qualified students associated with the University.

Movie Review

by Corby Woodling
FLASHLIGHT Movie Reviewer

You must remember this, a kiss is still a kiss, and a classic is still a classic.

MAC has been showing some great classics this semester.

If you've been missing them, don't worry, time is still on your side.

Still being shown yet this semester are a few of the best. Check out the ad on this page for the names, dates, and times.

The cost is only $.75 with ID, $1.25 without ID. All are well worth the price of admission.

Along side the classics, MAC has been showing some top notch films in the recent release category.

Still yet to come this semester are "Rambo: First Blood Part II", "St. Elmo's Fire", and "Rocky IV".

For a quick summary, "Rambo II" is just about as bloody as the first part to this blockbuster. Stallone's muscles are selling these days.

The story revolves around Stallone biting his way into foreign lands to rescue hostages. That sums the plot for this movie.

As usual, Stallone's plots aren't very deep, but they sell. Amazing how Rambo can do what the whole U.S. Army couldn't do. Oh well, that's showbiz. "Rambo II" gets a 5 on Corb's scale from 1 to 11. If you're into guts and gore or raw animal instincts, check this one out.

"Rocky IV" will also be shown this semester. "Rocky IV" parallels the other Rocky movies only this time, Stallone tries to tie the story in with some deep meaning about the struggle between super powers. Stallone should keep to what he does best!

As usual, the soundtrack is heavy with the group "Survivor." The plot is still the same. A fight, someone's hurt, there's a match-up, and then a winner. I won't ruin the ending and tell you who wins, but I bet you can guess.

"Rocky IV" gets a 5 on the Corb scale. Roc fans won't want to miss this one. "St. Elmo's Fire" is hitting MU.

The Brat Pack is back in action in this college oriented movie. Most of the cast from "The Breakfast Club" is reunited in this story about college graduates confused about the future and their lives before them.

This movie opened to mixed reviews but this person enjoyed the movie and grants it a 9 on the Corb scale. "St. Elmo's Fire" is a good movie and should be placed in the 'films to see this semester list.' Enjoy!

Outa Town Action

by Corby Woodling
FLASHLIGHT Movie Reviewer

This week's outa-town action is the spring break edition, a quick summary of some movies to see and some to skip.

"A Chorus Line: The Movie" was a real flop.

The movie was said to be adapted from the play, but I think they did a little to much adapting.

The play is the longest running show on Broadway, now on its eleventh year. It has won Tony Awards and a Pulitzer Prize. The film on the other hand doesn't even raise the curtain, let alone call for an encore.

Save your money on this one and see the play. It's a smash. "A Chorus Line: The Movie" should be left in the backrow and merits a 3 on the Corb scale from 1 to 11.

"The Color Purple" is a definite must-see-if-it-kills-you-to-get-there type of movie according to one prominent FLASHLIGHT staffer.

The cast is excellent and the screenplay does and superb job of transposing the book to the big screen.

Based on the best-selling novel by Alice Walker, the movie's main character is Celie, a poor black woman in the South during the 1930's. Celie is abused and put down till finally she is helped to find her own worth and dignity by Shug Avery, her ex-lover and flamboyant blues singer.

The film is beautiful and the book even better. You won't forget either for a long time to come. Steven Spielberg did a great job with this fine view of Americana.

"The Color Purple" along with its 11 Academy Award nominations is awarded a 10 on the Corb scale.

"House" is a recent release combining the elements of "Creepshow" and "Amityville Horror."

"House" is bizarre to say the least with a few surprise guests. It gets corny at times and is the good kind of movie to see with your friends and then wonder why you spent the money.

"House" leaves you wondering, wondering who made this movie. Most people will want to leave "House" in the cold this spring break. It only merits a 4.

"Pretty in Pink" is a fresh version of the timeless story about the poor girl from the other side of the track in love with a rich guy who loves her back. Neither of their friends like the idea and the two romantics try to stay together.

The story is aimed at high school students but there is something to be learned by everyone who sees it. The soundtrack is good and Molly Ringwald (Breakfast Club) and Cliff Robertson (Class) are great in these roles. Everyone should be pink over "Pretty in Pink."

This one gets a 9 on Corb's scale from 1 to 11.

Quick Summary: Skip "House" and "A Chorus Line: The Movie." See "Pretty in Pink" and "The Color Purple."

DRIVING ON CAMPUS

A Man Who Cared

by Fred Coleman
FLASHLIGHT Sports Editor

Frank Butsko was more than an offensive line coach here at Mansfield University. He was a driving force making and helping the players commit themselves to making Mansfield a winner.

His whole life was centered around football, whether it was in the weight room, the classroom or recruiting future Mansfield football players and students.

He wasn't just concerned with football. Even though he was first team All-Missouri Valley Conference for Drake University, he graduated with his class in 1982 and in 1985 he received his Master's Degree in Special Education here at Mansfield.

Maybe it is fitting that his death should come by way of helping others. He was on his way to Mansfield from his hometown of Soranton with two twins, recruits named Billy and Bob Ruddy, who had excellent senior seasons at Dunmore High School.

Coach Butsko and Billy Ruddy were killed when Butsko's car, traveling along icy Route 6, hit an oncoming coal truck. Bob Ruddy was seriously injured.

He may have been taken away from us, but he'll live with us in our hearts and minds. His work ethic is one that not only football players strive for but non-athletes as well. He never stopped trying to be the best and he wanted to make sure everyone of us was giving our best on and off the field.

The most saddening thing about his death is that it took place so early in his life, as well as Billy Ruddy's. Some people live to be 80, 90 years old and here was a young man; a strong man, who died before his time at the age of 25.

But he taught us to never stop working. It's because of him that we, as Mansfield University football players, will never stop striving to attain all of our goals in life.

My most vivid memory of Frank Butsko was during the Mansfield-University of Buffalo game at Van Norman field. When we scored a touchdown to pad our lead to 27-10, he raised his fist upward to the sky to signal that we did it together, not individually.

I think that if he were here today he would remind us that we can only be as good as we can be, and better if we want to be.

"Between a laugh and a tear
And that's as good as it can get for us
And there ain't no reason to stop trying!"

Men's Basketball Wrap-up

by Fred Coleman
FLASHLIGHT Sports Editor

The Mansfield University men's basketball season can be summed up in one word, "Aarrgh!" The Mounties finished with a 13-15 record—a far cry from the back-to-back 20 win seasons of the last two seasons. A tough schedule had a lot to do with it. I mean, playing two Division I teams, Canisius and Utica Colleges, doesn't help in addition to playing in four tournaments of which three were a long, long ways from home.

The main reasons, though, for the under .500 mark were a lot of close losses and inexperience due to a lot of freshmen receiving playing time in the heat of battle so early in the season. Interim Head Coach Roger Malsner's rookie year wasn't as successful as he might have like it even though the Mounties made the PSAC playoffs for the fifth time in the last six years before losing to conference champs and Final Four participant, the Cheyney Wolves.

Enough of the bad things, let's move on to the good things like the firm of Moore, Venning, and White.

Senior forward Andy Moore led the team in scoring (18 points a game), free throw percentage (79.8%), and finished second in rebounding (8.0 a game), field goal percentage (53.7%), and, oddly enough, assists with 76.

Moore passed the 1,000 point mark for his career and set a school season scoring mark and tied a school record for most rebounds in a game with 21 at Bloomsburg. And he didn't receive any all-conference and regional recognition as politics rears its ugly head in sports again.

Hard to believe that Chris "Flyman" Venning's hoop career has come to an end, but what a career it was! "V" finished as the school's career scoring leader with 1,816 points as he surpassed Lee Felsburg in a game at Cheyney. Scoring wasn't the only attribute of Mr. Venning, no siree! He constantly exhibited his prowess playing defense, rebounding and clutch plays throughout his stellar four-year career. He received second-team All PSAC honors and second team All Region as well as a ballot for All-American. His athletic ability was second to none in the conference and he, along with Moore, will be sorely missed by everyone connected with Mansfield basketball.

On the other hand, junior forward Brian White returns and that doesn't make any coaches or players in the conference feel good at all. Whether it was rebounding, defending, scoring, ball handling, you name it, White did it this year. He finished fifth in the nation in rebounding with 12.3 caroms in addition to finishing second in the PSAC in field goal percentage at 59.8%. He also finished second-team PSAC and second team All East as well as being named on the All-American ballot, but if East Stroudsburg coach Kyle Derregio had a vote, he would've been first team all-everything. In both meetings with the Warriors White scored 65 points and grabbed 22 rebounds, while shooting 74.8% from the field.

What hurts MU was that their other players played in spurts. Talented but erratic freshmen Warrell Broderick, Al Sanders, and Han Williams played well at times, but other times they just seemed to be there with Moore, Mansfield Baseball: Catch the Fever!!

by Fred Coleman
FLASHLIGHT Sports Editor

Last year the Mounties, under the tutelage of head coach Roger Maisner, won the PSAC Northern Division crown and Maisner was rewarded with PSAC Coach of the Year honors.

So, if you thought last year's team was terrific, well look out! With returning starters at nearly every position, the Mounties are poised to make a run at conference and national recognition.

Leading the Mounties will be senior center fielder Randy Vargason. All Vargason did last year was make first team all-district, PSAC Northern Division Player of the Year, first team all-PSAC in addition to second team ALL-American honors, to become the second First Division II All-American in Mansfield baseball history.

"Vargy" is the leading returning doubles hitter in the nation and, with a career batting average of .423, he seems ready to make another run at All-American honors. With his tremendous speed and quick bat, he will be a key to Mounties success in 1986.

Senior shortstop Jim Bierlein is no slouch in the hitting and fielding departments either. A first team All-PSAC and All-District performer, Bierlein batted .392. He had a club leading 8 home runs, 34 runs batted in and 13 stolen bases to rank second behind Vargason's 23 thefts. He definitely bolstered a shaky infield with his versatility and hard work.

Junior team captain Tom Royal will lead off and is expected to make a big contribution with his excellent speed and outstanding eye at the plate after sitting out last season with a broken foot.

Other top hitters include first baseman Dwayne Heeter (.342 batting average), third baseman Bruce Peddie and right fielder Peter Cook (.333 batting average).

With the grand old game of baseball you don't win without good pitching and this could turn out to be a Mounties Achilles heel.

Career save leader Mike Stewart is ready to blossom into what should be a productive senior season as a starter. Oklahoma State transfer Durrell Schoenly could turn out to be the team's best pitcher with, hopefully, major contributions from Tom bialas, JC transfer Jim Littlejohn and top recruit Dave Bitting, who, according to the coaches, had an excellent fall.

All in all the Mounties strengths will be their hitting prowess and, if Stewart, Schoenly and company bolster a shaky pitching staff, the Mounties will wreck havoc on PSAC and national comition this year. If not, expect a lot of 7-0, 0-0 ballgames with the Mounties on the short end of a lot of these scores.

Wrap-up

Vonning, and White and reluctant to play their game. Maybe it was due to being freshmen, but next year it'll be their year to shine because all three have enormous talent. Also signing 6'9" center Stephan Jensen from Vestal High School doesn't hurt either.

Close losses really hurt the Mounties this year. Against nationally-ranked Millersville they were up by ten points before losing by two; against Cheyney they were up by twelve before losing by three; and against Sacred Heart they were up by five with under three minutes remaining before losing by three. Millersville pulled their annual "El Foldo" by not win-ing the PSAC and losing in the first round on the NCAA East Regional, but Cheyney and Sacred Heart play each other in the Division II National Semi-Finals this weekend in Springfield, Mass.

Even with the loss of Moore and Vonning, I look for Mansfield to return to the upper echelon record-wise because as Al McGuire says, "The best thing about freshmen is that they become sophomores," and possible signings of junior college transfers should help. Who knows; next year the Mounties can reverse those close losses and redeem themselves. Cross your fingers!!

Rich's Revelations

Welcome to Mansfield State Park. Please do not feed knowledge to the students.

OR

An outdoor park-mall in the South Hall parking lot will enhance the aesthetic value of the MU campus, thereby giving students a place to congregate and increasing enrollment.

Priorities. That is what this issue is about. There are two sides to this story.

On one hand, a CCSI sub-committee was formed last year to explore possibilities of beautifying the campus. This committee was made up of students, faculty, and administrators. This group came up with the idea of creating an outdoor mall in South Hall parking lot consisting of trees, flowers, lights, ground lighting, and walkways. The drawing of the proposed park which I saw looked quite beautiful, so on paper the goal has been achieved.

The cost of this project is estimated to be between $76,000 and $80,000. $40,000 is coming from the Council of Trustees through fund-raising. $38,000 has been appropriated through CCSI, student's money, discretionary income from the bookstore over two years.

What about parking, you ask? Clinton Street parking between Pinecrest and Laurel will become faculty parking and those students who park there now will park on the northeast side of the campus.

Okay, no problem, you say, let's have a park. Agreed, the campus would look nicer. Yes, enrollment might increase. But wait, what about education? This is an educational institution, isn't it? $80,000 is a lot of money to spend on a few trees and seats, don't you think?

Plainly and simply, Mansfield University is disparate for educational materials. The library

Editorial

Once, I looked to my last editorial with sadness because I enjoyed my work for the Flashlight. When my named followed an editorial it was with the same feelings that an artist signs a painting: love and pride.

Since that time my efforts to expand and advance the Flashlight have met unrelenting resistance, and our present financial problems are blamed on extravagance. Repeatedly I have explained that the $7,000 increase for the new equipment lease was more than covered by the $10,000 increase in advertising revenue. Still it is claimed by the C.O.F., Maresco, and the misinformed student body, that we slit our own throats. The $3,000 budget cut—the budget cut that no one, Maresco or C.O.F., can justify—prevents the Flashlight from publishing. The advertising revenue is generated only when we publish.

The new C.O.F. bylaws were made public a while ago. They have declared their meetings closed during deliberations. They choose their own replacements. Of the 14 members only 4 are elected indirectly through the S.G.A., the rest are appointed by the C.O.F. itself. All appointed members are members until they graduate. The C.O.F. controls the funding of all student organizations. The cliques in control remain in control and hide the decision making process from the public. Does anyone care?

This is my last editorial and I'm glad it's over

Letter to the Editor

Editor:

I want to say how much I enjoyed the jazz concert presented here on Saturday, Dec. 7. The concert consisted of works presented by Mansfield's two (yes, two!) fine jazz ensembles—the 6:30 jazz ensemble and the 2:00 jazz ensemble. I want to congratulate Professors Rob James and Dan Neville, as directors, and the students, as musicians, for presenting such excellent big band jazz. I have performed in such a group (playing trombone) in high school and a little in college, so I can appreciate how tight the sections sounded on all the number, many of which had very difficult arrangements.

Thanks again, and I encourage anyone who likes jazz (or any music presented well) to watch for and attend any concert presented by the fine jazz ensembles.

Prof. J. D. Mumma
Dept. of Mathematics

could use some serious updating. How about some science equipment for Grant Science Center? Some music materials for Butler? How about giving the $80,000 to the bookstore, so needy or all students could buy their books at a cheaper rate? Hey folks, most people will tell you they need an education before they could afford art!

How about a compromise? There is a secluded area on the northeast side of campus where Oak and Hickory used to stand. Why not plant a few more trees, put in a few benches, and other aesthetics, and have our park over there? It is secluded, so students would have privacy, a nice place for picnics, a mountain view, and even a place to meet. All this and more for maybe $20,000? Too easy, huh?

On the anniversary of our North Hall feasibility study, why not do an educational feasibility study? What do we really need? What is the purpose of a university—recreate or educate? What are the priorities of our students? Has anyone asked or are a select few guiding our destiny? The other day I heard someone say that every generation has had something to stand for and this generation stands for nothing, which is still something. Get involved. Ask questions. Make a stand. You'll feel better if you have a part in something. This and every other issue deserves to be examined from both sides.

Summer Improvements at MU

by Mary Congdon
FLASHLIGHT Staff Reporter

"We have a good bit planned and I hope we can get most of it done," said Director of Residence Life Mike Lemasters. Lemasters said that some maintenance projects originally scheduled for the summer are being done now. "Laurel and Cedarcrest's roofs were made a priority by the last rains," he said. New draperies for the TV lounges in Hemlock, Pinecrest, and the main lounge in Laurel have also been put up, he added.

Eighty-four pieces of newly reupholstered furniture came back on April 25 and will be put back in the dorms.

Summer projects include, Lemasters said, painting Hemlock and putting a new roof on the building. Pinecrest will be totally closed so it can be painted, the floors waxed, and "other small things can be done without having to work around people." He explained that since Pinecrest is the smallest dorm on campus, it is traditionally open twelve months a year to house summer school students and any international students remaining on campus for the summer. This year, for the first time in recent history, students staying on campus for summer sessions are scheduled to be housed in Cedarcrest.

Other maintenance projects being considered, Lemasters stated, are contracting a local company to refinish badly scratched and marred tops of desks and dressers, replacing all furniture in the rooms except beds on one floor to monitor damage, and carpeting two hallways in Maple in high traffic areas to cut down noise. Also being rumored are cable TV for all rooms and a new phone system to allow for cheaper rates and code calling.

Vandals Accost Memorial

by Merv Benkman
FLASHLIGHT Staff Reporter

Last weekend, vandals accosted Memorial Hall inflicting damage that might be described as terrorist-like.

Damage was extensive but limited. A heavy stone bench that used to reside outside on the east side of Memorial was overturned and destroyed. Other acts of destruction included damage to first floor Memorial, frequented by nontraditional students as well as making a mess. Magazines were ripped up and strewn about inside the building.

Clarence Crisp, Director of Student Activities, said that authorities were being consulted about the vandalism and that his office was not ready to make a statement at this time.

Oak and Hickory-North Hall-South Hall Mall

by Mary Congdon
FLASHLIGHT Staff Reporter

"I think we have eliminated most of the eyesores," commented President Rod Kelchner on campus construction and maintenance.

"Oak and Hickory were finished in February," he said, referring to the destruction of Oak and Hickory Hall, two temporary dorms. The lot they stood on has been graded and raked and will be seeded, but, he added, other than that "nobody has come up with an idea as to how to use the land."

Kelchner also said that the North Hall feasibility study has begun. The complete study will take about three months and the team of architects doing the study are required to submit a variety of reports according to a time schedule. The architects are working from blueprints now.

The South Hall Mall projects has also begun. "Surveying is the first step in the design for

Dr. Grace: No Frankenstein

by Don Shepley
FLASHLIGHT Staff Reporter

An investigative study aimed at headaches is currently being conducted to show the differences in heart rates of those individuals who do and do not experience headaches. The principal investigator is Dr. Joel E. Grace from the Psychology department.

The experiment consists of two parts. Part one is a questionnaire that the individuals must complete. It primarily concerns biographical information, age, sex, and relation to the University. Other questions deal with specific headaches: frequency, location, and accompanying symptoms.

The answers are used to categorize the individuals into headache and non-headache groups.

Part two is the research or the experiment itself. On April 24, this reporter observed subject number 49, Mark Anelli, as he was connected to the EKG machine. Anelli's heart rate was recorded with a commercial polygraph machine by taping conducting wire leads to the wrist of each arm.

The polygraph was designed to pick up and amplify the weak electrical signals that accompany heart beat. The electrical activity of the heart is traced and displaced on graph paper. The heart rate is then measured from this display.

The actual experiment runs as follows: The individuals are to sit quietly with a minimum of movement during the five-minute testing period. The stimulus is a click on a tape. The experiment is totally harmless. All the participants must do is listen.

At the conclusion of the experiment, a total of 60 students will have contributed their time, support, and heart rates. Most of the results should be known by the end of the semester and will be announced.

Puppets & Marionettes

by Zack Goldstein
FLASHLIGHT Staff Reporter

On Wednesday May 7th at 7:00 pm in Allen Hall Auditorium, the Hut Puppet Performers will give their last performance. This vagabond troupe of puppeteers is actually a group of students taking Puppetry Art 298. This course is taught by Mr. Sam Thomas.

Both the plays and puppets are original works. The students in Art 298 have spent the semester constructing hand puppets and marionettes and writing the plays that are performed.

The class has had numerous performances to enthusiastic crowds at Blossburg Elementary School, Wellsboro Elementary School, and Warren Miller Elementary School in Mansfield.

"The Marionette Plays" include the elements of mystery, comedy, and romance.

"Mystery Mansion" is about an elderly couple who stumble upon a dark secret, long buried in their garden.

"Surf and Turf," a romantic comedy, involves a fisherman and a pig farmer fighting for the affections of the lovely maiden Marsha.

Next, two generations of tall tale tellers try to top one another in "Can You Top This?" and in the final marionette play, "Love Never Dies", an unusual love triangle has an even stranger ending.

Following the marionette plays will be five hand puppet plays. Viewers of this event will experience many things. They will see two children encounter the supernatural, a play about a fortune teller, one about a brave Indian hunter stalking a ferocious bear, and a mad scientist who's experiment goes haywire.

The last two plays are about a young clown trying to make it in the big top and a three act play, "Ruby and Crystal". "Ruby and Crystal," an old fashioned fairy tale, is filled with magic and romance.

The puppet plays will be performed in Allen Hall Auditorium on May 7th at 7:00 pm. They hold magic for young and old alike. Bring the kids, or the kid in you for a night with the puppet troupe.

this project," Kelchner said. "Blueprints must then be drawn up and an artists rendition needs to be done and approved by the Arts Commission of the Commonwealth before any actual work can be started." Kelchner estimated that the actual work on the South Hall Mall project will start a year from now.

The University's current major maintenance concern is, added Kelchner, the condition of the roads, especially the occurrence of potholes. The other large maintenance project being finished now is more unnoticed. "Two-thirds of the steam system have already been replaced and the remaining third needing replacement is around Allen and Decker Gym."

MU Persons in Arts Festival

The Elkland Community Theatre will hold its Second Annual Arts Festival Weekend on Saturday and Sunday, May 3rd and 4th, at the Elkland Area High School. There is no admission charge for these events.

The weekend includes MY FAIR LADY (a one-woman show), AN AFTERNOON WITH SHAKESPEARE (a Reader's Theatre Production), and a display of works by area artists.

MY FAIR LADY will star Arlyne Garrity, assistant professor of Speech, Communications, and Theatre at Mansfield University, and her accompanist, Joan Berresford. The show begins at 8 PM on Saturday.

AN AFTERNOON WITH WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE will be presented by members of the Elkland Community Theatre under the direction of Bonelyn Kyofski. Dr. Kyofski studied Reader's Theatre with Joseph Conaway while at Mansfield University and received her PhD in American Literature from the Pennsylvania State University. The show begins at 2 PM on Sunday and will be followed by a tea hosted by the Elkland Shakespeare Club.

During these events, the works of area artists will be on display at the high school. All artists who wish to participate are asked to contact Bonelyn Kyofski of Nelson, PA by Friday, April 25th. Everyone is encouraged to come and participate in the Weekend's activities.

Graduation Speaker Chosen

Communications and pop culture scholar Dr. Keith Semmel will deliver the key address during Mansfield University's 121st commencement ceremonies Sunday, May 18 at 2 p.m. on Van Norman Field.

Semmel, assistant professor of speech communication at Ball State University, received his bachelor of arts degree from Mansfield University in 1976, and his master's and Ph.D. from Bowling Green State University. All three degrees are in speech communication.

Semmel, who seems to hold a Sherlock Holmes magnifying glass on popular culture, has written papers and given presentations on everything from Nixon to Bruce Springsteen.

In the area of music, he has written "What's Love Got To Do With It? The Life and Hard Rhymes of Tina Turner," "The Promised Land Lost and Found: Bruce Springsteen's Vision of Life in the U.S.A.," "Rock Music as Symbolic Transcendence: A Comparative Analysis of the Rock and Roll Themes in the Works of Chuck Berry and Bruce Springsteen," "Rhetoric of Religious Rock: Music as Persuasion for Youth," the multimedia presentation, "The Pepperland Perspective: A Lecture On The Beatles," and studies about John Lennon's impact on society.

Looking at the realm of video, Semmel has cast his critical gaze on television with "The Best Care Anywhere: A Rhetorical Analysis of the Family Structure on M*A*S*H," and a comparative study of Hill Street Blues and Dallas.

His paper on the political rebirth of Richard Nixon was presented at the Central State Speech Association Convention last year.

He has also done studies of Steven Spielberg, the modernization of movie westerns, and "nuclear nightmares of science fiction films."

concert will include selections written for individual families of instruments as well as a work for full band. The brass section will open the program with a work by Purcell. This will be followed by a piece written by Ravel and scored for woodwinds. The percussion section will perform a percussion ensemble composed by Warren Benson. The first half of the program concludes with "Sketches on a Tudor Psalm" composed by Fisher Tull and scored for the entire wind ensemble.

Movie Review

by Corby Woodling

FLASHLIGHT Movie Reviewer

This is the last movie review of the semester. No moans and groans please.

Thanks should go to MAC for trying something new and different. Although the 'Classic Series' did not go over as well as planned, it was a novel idea that was worth the effort. Experimentation leads to greatness.

MAC has also had some great regular features this semester including "Cocoon," "Pee-Wee Herman" and "St. Elmos Fire."

The last of the MAC movies will be this Saturday and Sunday night. Being shown are two films in the Rocky series; "Rocky," the original, will be shown Saturday and Sunday at 6:00 p.m. in Straughn Auditorium. Anyone, if there is such a being, who has not seen or heard about Rocky should get out from under the rock and check this out. The original is well worth the money. On the Corb Scale from 1 to 11, Stallone merits an 8. It is tradition at the end to cheer so don't be shy.

The regular feature being shown at 8:00 p.m. is "Rocky IV." This is the latest release in the fighting drama. Stallone is much bigger and more mellow in this story interweaving boxing and a plot about superpowers. A Russian fighting machine challenges our American animal in this all-out fight. Stallone must train, with the help of 'Survivor's' music, to battle this villain. If you're into tension and the kind of movie you can yell at, check out "Rocky" and "Rocky IV" this weekend. See the add on this page for times, places, and prices.

Outa Town Action

by Corby Woodling

FLASHLIGHT Movie Reviewer

This weeks outa-town action is about a movie that is under the 'great' category.

"Brazil" is a recent release that should be seen. The movie just hit New York City so probably won't hit the local movie theaters for a few weeks.

"Brazil" was fabulous. It's the kind of movie that is so deep, you get what you can out of it. The story is very hard to explain so I won't. Just take my word for it that if it comes around, drag your friends and go. "Brazil" is awarded and 10%. Have a good summer at the movies!

FLASHLIGHT Forecast

It has certainly been a long hard year for the FLASHLIGHT. Things started off to a great beginning. Big issues, staff galore, and money out the window was all in our hands. But this was not to last, for stormy weather was on the horizon.

A storm cloud fell over our paper sunshine. Bills piled up and money soon ran out. Fingers were pointed blaming reasons that the real problem soon was forgotten; a paper was not being printed. Funds as well as people and patience ran out. Tension mounted. The editor's main beam soon cracked and the bottom fell out of the already weakened floor. People became apathetic and the staff dwindled to an all-time low. The FLASHLIGHT seemed headed for doom.

But like the little ant, high hopes are soon coming. The construction and rebuilding process will be slow. A foundation is already being laid in this issue. The rest of the building will need help from you the readers. If not through direct involvement, then through criticism. YOU, the readers can make the walls strong and give us a ceiling to keep out future storms.

Experience is not needed for the building project. Help is needed for all areas of construction. Most positions are still open including editor-in-chief, news editor, business manager, distribution manager, writers, photographers, helpers, typesetters... Any help is needed.

The forecast for the future FLASHLIGHT looks promising but weathermen often make mistakes. The new paper could be exciting, vital, and expand in many new directions. This can only be done with your help. Express your opinions and get involved. You can make a difference. Look at the changes in one issue. Next semester when the call goes out, answer it. Rekindle the light.

Corbin Woodling
 Temporary Editor-in-Chief

Editorial

In the beginning there was Band Aid and the people said, "This is good." Then, out of the darkness came USA for Africa, "We are the World", and Live Aid. The people said, "This is really good." Live Aid was a beautiful vision by Bob Geldof to hold a benefit concert. This concert seemingly brought together the world by having the biggest names in rock and roll play to benefit the hungry in Africa. It raised more than $90 million dollars and brought back memories of an earlier era.

But like most good things, overkill crept in like the plague. There was Farm Aid, Fasion Aid, Home Aid, Aids Aid, and Anti-Drug Aid with no stop in sight. The people said, "This is overkill."

Coming soon: Farm Aid II on July 4th and Music for a Miracle. Hands Across America has already sunk. Not enough people were involved to stretch hands from coast to coast. The people said, "America is aided out."

These causes are wonderful and very worthwhile and money should be raised to help them. Musicians will continue to contribute their time and effort to meritable causes. However, some new original approach is needed. Slowly the benefit concert idea has been worn thin is becoming stale. Soon there will be Rock Star Aid to benefit those gracious stars who donated their time to the needy. Live Aid gained from originality, someone should take the hint.

Letters to the Editor

Dear MU:

I'm far from Mansfield now but news of the recent tragedy didn't take long to spread. I didn't know Teddy but Jim "Nev" Newling and Dan Welfing were good friends. They helped make Mansfield a better place for you and I through their efforts as RA's in Cedarcrest. They were both quick with a joke and a smile and were always there to lend a helping hand. They were the kind of people that you were proud to know. The three of them will be sorely missed. In writing this letter, to be honest, I must admit my own stupidity. You see, I've driven the same route (that they died on) after a night of drinking. I think that far too many of us have. I thank God for being alive and healthy knowing that it certainly isn't a result of my imprudent decisions in the past.

We all share the burden of this tragedy, but missing the friends that we have come to love is simply not enough. Those of us who were fortunate enough to share the blessing of their lives must also show Teddy, Dan, and Nev respect in learning from their deaths. If we do not learn from this, they will all have died in vain. Don't drink and drive! When graduation gets closer there are bound to be lots of parties. There should be, as it is, a celebration for those who have worked long and hard at Mansfield. Just don't get behind the wheel if you drink. Have fun but be safe. Do it for them. It is what they would have wanted. I'll see you, my friends, at graduation.

Sincerely,
 Eric N. Scheibeler
 Class of 85

Dear Editor:

"Life is what happens while you're making other plans." This quote from a song by John Lennon really makes a point. We never plan misfortune; we rarely plan a rotten time; we seldom count on disaster. Yet, these things happen. Maybe because we just didn't know enough to keep them from happening.

Take, for example, social drinkers. A "social drinker" is someone who socializes mainly through consuming alcoholic beverages. This person usually will tell you (many times in the same evening) "I know my limits." This person will also assure you that s/he knows when s/he's drunk. But does this person really know??? And, if s/he does, does this person realize the effects alcohol consumption may have even if s/he doesn't feel drunk?

The alcohol you consume will affect you differently than it will affect someone else. However, there are certain effects which will definitely occur. Did you ever wonder why state police give the "straight line" test? Well, the first part of your body affected by drinking will be your FEET. That's right! As the alcohol reaches your brain, the first messages to be slowed down are those that control the coordination of your feet. So your mind might be totally fine, but you keep tripping...or maybe there's a split second lag in your step. You know, somehow, you're just not keeping up with the crowd.

Then the effects move up your body. Next thing you notice is probably the "ole bladder. Archie Bunker once said, "You don't buy a beer, you rent it!" The need for the restroom becomes terribly important to you, and, of course, since it's been a while, you usually have to wait for your turn. Your hands seem a bit slower next, and finally, when you are truly "inebriated", your speech and vision become incredibly indistinct. This is usually the point at which the room spins and many people become nauseous.

Now, why tell you all this? How can this save your life? Well, many accidents on the road happen because a drinker doesn't realize that his/her feet are affected before any other part of his/her body. This person truthfully tells everyone riding with her/him that s/he's fine, and can drive wonderfully. The split second lag in this person's reactions can mean the difference between re-entending a stopped vehicle or stopping short of it. It can also make the difference between stalling at an intersection because the clutch wasn't engaged or making it through.

This semester we've had our share of misfortunes and disasters. Take some time and designate a driver before you go out. Let this person drink non-alcoholic drinks all night. Isn't your life worth taking a turn at not drinking?

Dee Marie Bernhardt
 Director of Campus Ministry

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor,

I am very disturbed about an incident which occurred on Saturday, April 26, at the baseball game against Millersville. I realize that there is a degree of competition in any sport and I realize that the fans are an important part in any game, but when the fans take cheering to the point of being rude and obnoxious to the opposing team something must be done. Things like that show a very ugly side of our University and its students. Isn't there something that can be done to prevent their childish antics and stop our school from getting a bad reputation?

A concerned baseball fan

P.S. And what about the keg party in centerfield which Dave Newcome, President Kelchner, and Security saw?

The FLASHLIGHT Staff would like to extend its gratitude to Dr. Larry K. Uffelman.

Dr. Uffelman or 'Uncle Larry' has been at Mansfield University since 1969 and has been deeply involved with the FLASHLIGHT ever since his arrival.

Due to contract disputes, Dr. Uffelman was forced to resign his long term position of FLASHLIGHT advisor. His years of service and talent have been felt by many past editors and this staff would like to say thanks for a job well done.

The new FLASHLIGHT Advisor is Mr. Guy McMullen.

Thanks to Cliff Johnston for his help in the developing of pictures. He came to the aid of the FLASHLIGHT in a time of need.

SGA Update

by Mary Bankman
FLASHLIGHT Staff Reporter

The elections for Student Government were held in Lower Manser on Monday and Tuesday, April 15 and 16. Voting took place from 10am to 2 pm daily. The election results were as follows: President, Mark Feil; Vice-President, Todd Gabello; new senators are Doug Schefler, Dave Donlick, Jeff Talus, Chris Weaver, Linda Granato, B.J. Hunsinger, Gail Grundig, John Kingston, Pat Pretti, Gavin Glimm, Cliff Johnston, Darlene Nester, Chris McKeekier, Pam Roddler, Bob Oliver, and Val Kemmer. The alternates to the senate were announced as being Joe Grier, Maryann Melito, Bob Johnson, Mike Whaley, John Brown, and Matt Tighe. At press time, the treasurer, recording secretary, corresponding secretary, and parliamentarian had not been announced.

In addition, Mark Feil and Val Kemmer attended a meeting of the Board of Student Government Presidents at California University of Pennsylvania on April 25 and 26. The Board meets twice a semester and once during the summer to compare and contrast such issues as common campus problems, student union facilities (or lack thereof), and university policies. In addition to the above, last week's meeting also included a presentation by State Representative Daley of the Eleventh District. Mr. Daley discussed the problems facing the fourteen state universities which included a very possible $237 dollar increase in tuition next year.

Wrestlemania Runs Amok

by Annette Resan
FLASHLIGHT Staff Reporter

Throughout the day of April 18th, you could hear challenges and insults flying through the airwaves of WNTV. There were trivia questions and ticket giveaways. Westlemania had hit Mansfield University. Through all the hype of the day and the wait before the matches, the crowd of about 900 people of all ages was ready.

The warm-up match was won by Kenny Passariello, twice the Lightweight Mr. America.

The ladies got a chance when Cosmic Cowgirl, Jamie West beat Princess Night Owl in the Women's World Championship.

The Sheik El Shadd of Libya put on the most exciting match of the evening when the crowd found out the Sheik's nationality. It seemed his battle was more with the crowd who immediately proclaimed U.S.A. number one. As the Sheik wrestled and ultimately won his match with Mr. Wrestling, excitement was in the air. A man from the crowd jumped up into the ring and started hitting the Sheik with his belt proclaiming he was "Khadafy's number one hit man." It took a minute or two before the Bouncers realized this was not a part of the show, and they escorted the fan back to his seat.

The evening's Feature Event was a Ten Man Battle Royal. "The German Invader," Von Hess, was the last one on the ring and became $5,000 richer. He finally became victorious when everyone else was thrown out of the ring where they continued to fight with folding chairs.

A good time was had by all. The Wrestling benefitted the Mansfield University Football Association.

Crunchtime for MU baseballers

by Fred Coleman
FLASHLIGHT Sports Editor

After a hot start in Florida, the Mounties entered a schneid in which in a ten game stretch they only won two games. But they rebounded and have won six in a row which included, come-from-behind efforts against East Stroudsburg and Millersville. With a win over Susquehanna Tuesday, the Mounties improved to 22-17, which is a far cry from when MU was 12-14 which included seven losses in a row. With four games left and an 8-8 record in the PSAC, the Mounties have a good chance to qualify for the playoffs, but they find themselves in a dog fight with their old nemesis, Millersville University.

Head coach Roger Maisner sums up the season as "inconsistent. One game we'll have pitching, the next game hitting. Our pitching coming into the year was inexperienced, but it hasn't been a disappointment." No argument from me as Tom Bialas and Mike Stewart were the only pitchers with game experience on the staff. Jim Littlejohn has been a great addition with a 2-2 record with a 3.53 E.R.A.

A pleasant surprise has been

Head Coach Roger Maisner

Mike Womer who has come through with a 4-1 record with a 3.23 E.R.A. and he's tied with Stewart for complete games with four. He has a tendency to start slow, but gets stronger as games go along making it tough on opposing batters. Scott Jeffrey (3-1, 3.50 E.R.A. and 28 k's) and freshman Bob Foulke (2-0, 1 save) have been mainstays, but Durrell Schoenly was a key. Before he suffered a shoulder injury he was 3-0 with 24 k's, one shutout, and a staff-leading 3.18 E.R.A. Maisner said that Schoenly is probably done for the year which hurts the Mounties' pitching staff that, even though Womer and Littlejohn have done well, is still shaky at best.

However for the Mounties hitting hasn't been a major problem, especially in the last six games. Randy Vargason needs no introduction, but here's the latest on his continuing saga at Mansfield. Vargason leads the runs (37), hits (47), triples (3), slugging percentage (.840), home runs (10), stolen bases (15), total bases (89), and an eye-opening batting average of .443. Definitely an All-American candidate, Vargason is probably one of the finest players to ever play for the Mounties. A nagging hand injury hasn't limited his effectiveness in the slightest.

Jim Bierlein plays second fiddle to Vargason, but combined both make and unbeatable combination. Bierlein has seven HR's, 33 ribby's, and 13 stolen bases to grow with his .395 BA and .666 slugging percentage. Other stickers have been Tom Royal (.349, 4 HR's, and 11 stolen bases), Dwayne Heeter (.318, 6 HR's, and a team-leading 35 RBI's), Bruce Peddie (.346, team-leading 10 doubles, and 19 RBI's), and Peter Cook (.313 with 10 stolen bases).

What will probably elevate the Mounties into playoffs will be the senior leadership of pitcher Stewart (5-5, 3 saves, 37 K's) and Vargason, Bierlein, and Heeter. Al Warner has been a consistent hitter and Kevin Poman has done a great job replacing Chris Curran at catcher. But if the Mounties needed a pitching and defense, the last four games is a great time to do it.

Consistent play will help the Mounties, but Bloomsburg and Kutztown won't go down easy. Come to think of it, neither will the Mounties.

Mounties Up End Shippensburg

by Fred Coleman
FLASHLIGHT Sports Editor

Kevin Poman smashed a two-run homer in the second inning and Randy Vargason lifted a sacrifice fly which proved to be the winning run as Mansfield won their sixth in a row. Tom Bialas pitched middle relief to earn his second win of the year. Bob Folke and Al Warner pitched the final four innings to secure the Mounties' 22nd win against 17 defeats.

Jim Littlejohn started for the Mounties and pitched three innings before being lifted in favor of Bialas. Big days were had by second baseman Bruce Peddie (.3-5 including a double) and hot-hitting first baseman Dwayne Heeter (2-4 with two runs batted in).

The Mounties have four games remaining at Bloomsburg (Saturday) and Kutztown (Tuesday). If the Mounties sweep both they will qualify for the PSAC playoffs at Shippensburg. Currently the Mounties are tied with Millersville for second place and two games behind league-leading Shippensburg.

WRAP UP

Shooting from the Lip

by Fred Coleman
FLASHLIGHT Sports Editor

Well, it's that time again, as playoffs are near and baseball is underway. Let's look into the crystal ball and see what we can see.

How about those New York Rangers? After defeating the Philadelphia Flyers in a tough five game series, they dispatched the Washington Capitals in six games to win the Patrick Division title and the right to face Les Habitants, commonly known as the Montreal Canadiens. Look for Pierre LaRouche and goalie John Vanbiesbrouck to continue their hot playing, but the key is center James Patrick, who has taken the place of Barry Beck and has pulled the Broadway Blues together. A tough series, but I think the Ranger's magic will, in the end, take the Canadiens in six games.

Edmonton is still on the ropes as the Calgary Flyers have played them head up the whole series. Gretzky and Co. have had a tough time with Lanny McDonald, Joey Mullen and goal-tender Mickey Vernon. Grant Fuhr has been terrific in the nets. He's had to, because the Oilers, especially Paul Coffey, have played terrible defense the whole series. The Oilers better beware, especially since game seven is in Edmonton, where Calgary has one 2 out of 3 games.

One of these days, the NBA is going to outlaw Charles Barkley of the Philadelphia 76ers. The 'Round Mound of the Rebound' has been a terror in the playoffs. Against Milwaukee Tuesday night, 'Boy Gorge' collected 31 points, 20 rebounds, 6 assists and 6 steals to lead the 76ers to an upset first round over the Bucks. Players wonder how such a big man can move so fast and be so versatile. What used to be called 'Doc's Team' is fast becoming 'Charlie's Charges'.

Boston is my choice to win the NBA title over the Los Angeles Lakers. Last year the Lakers defeated the Celtics with a one-armed Larry Bird and no bench. The addition of Jerry Sichting and Bill Walton off the bench, plus the impeccable passing of the whole Boston team, should be enough to defeat Karpis, Magic and the rest of the show stoppers from the City of Angels.

Meanwhile, the Lakers will have to contend with Houston Rocket twin towers Ralph Sampson and Akeem Olatunji, who just might be enough to upset L.A. Sounds impossible? This is America, nothing's impossible! Olatunji possesses the best drop-step this side of Kevin McHale, and Lewis Lloyd and Rodney McCray fill out a good nucleus. If Houston gets a solid point guard in the draft, look out next year.

As far as I am concerned, Duke may have lost the national championship, but they're not losers in the classroom. All four seniors (Johnny Dawkins, Mark Alarie, Jay Bilas and David Henderson) will graduate on schedule with their degrees. Duke epitomizes what college athletics and academics is all about. Kind of an Ivy League snobbery with grits mixed in.

Walter Berry may be 'The Truth', but for two weeks Navy center David Robinson was the man, and he will give the St. John's star a run for player of the year honors next season.

More kudos for MU hoopsters Brian White and Chris Venning. In addition to being named 2nd All-PSAC, the terrific duo were also named 2nd team All-East Regional by the National Association of Basketball Coaches.

Well, that's what the crystal ball sees at this moment. More predictions later on. See ya next semester!

One-Acts Festival

Don't worry there is still time.

A "Festival of One Act Plays" will be held at Mansfield University Tunning nightly at 8 PM through Saturday, May 3 in MU's Allen Hall Theatre.

The festival is a series of three one act plays directed by MU students taking part in the theatre department's directing class. Knowles, MU speech, communications and theatre assistant professor, is the class instructor.

Student director S. Michael Getz, a junior theatre major, is presenting "An Actor's Nightmare." He has cast in the play Thomas Musingo Jr., a music junior, Barbara Tsontakis, a music education sopho-

Student director Sara Jane Kauffman, sophomore theatre major, will present "The Fisherman" and has cast Karen Pasour, a sophomore psychology major, Patricia Mathie, a music therapy sophomore, Kevin Church, a special education junior and Brian Berry, a special student, in her play.

Michael Crum, MU assistant professor of speech, communications and theatre, is the technical director for the festival.

This tree died of a heart attack.

Carving hearts on trees seems harmless enough.

But the fact is, it cut short the life of this majestic oak.

By gouging into the bark, vandals crippled the tree's vascular system. So, like thousands of other innocent victims each year, the tree slowly died.

But the fight against vandalism is gathering strength from the example of Lynn Brauer and Carol Eichling.

When vandals girdled a 300 year old Chinquapin Oak near their Marthasville, Missouri home, they wrapped the wound in sphagnum moss and tended the tree daily, despite blizzard conditions.

If not for the severe winter, arborists feel the Chinquapin might have survived.

We believe miracles can take root. When people care enough.

Finals week can be a grueling time. After speaking to a great number of students, we have compiled a list of the most efficient ways to relieve tension known to modern science.

1. EATING: a light snack of vegetable sticks or popcorn is great to munch on during a study break.

2. WATCHING TV: taking a break to watch a good sitcom is an excellent way of taking your mind off the upcoming exams.

3. AEROBICS: simple stretching, exercises, or even a light workout loosens up those tense muscles. Besides, it's good for you!

4. SEX: believe it or not, sex actually does relieve tension and is a great way to take your mind off finals. Also, scientists have estimated that one hour of hard (wait for it guys...) kissing (see, not what you thought, huh: come on, a whole hour of what you were thinking?) will burn off in excess of 800 calories.

5. SEX DURING AEROBICS: Many of you may be aware of the benefits of this already...

6. SEX DURING AEROBICS WHILE EATING A LIGHT SNACK: This may seem to be defeating the purpose of the exercise, but according to our survey, this is much more popular than most people think. (50 percent who admitted to engaging in sex during aerobics while eating also said they did it in front of the TV.)

7. TAKING A SHOWER WHILE HAVING SEX AND EATING WITHOUT TAKING YOUR EYES OFF THE TV: Forget this one. You'll probably relieve so much tension and burn so many calories that it wouldn't be surprising if you passed out. In fact, six couples died blissfully on campuses throughout the country last semester. Be careful folks! If you still want to try this one, make sure someone (other than your partner) knows where you are and that they check up on you every now and then.

Good Luck With Finals!
